Don't miss the Green "T" social by the Christian Endeavor Society of the Christian church, in the room east of Milkous' drug store, Thursday evening May 6. m24

According to the newspapers, an Ohio husband became the happy father of seven children not long ago. Of the seven all lived but one. It is to be hoped he laid in a supply of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, the only sure cure for croup, whooping cough, colds and coughs, and so insured his children against these diseases. For sale at C. W. Milhous' druggist.

Last Saturday night some persons went into the yard of Peter Platter's residence and stole all of Mrs. Platter's fine tulips. This is the second visit they have made, as all her hyacinths were stolen two or three weeks ago. Mrs. Platter says she has one more tulip that will be in bloom in a few days. This notice she says is for the benefit of flower thieves.

ROUGH ON RATS

ENDED THE LIFE OF JOHN CONWAY LAST NIGHT.

John Conway who lived with his family on east Fourth street committed suicide last night by taking a dose of "Rough on Rats." It is supposed that he took the poison late in the afternoon and then went to his bedroom. Near 9 o'clock members of his family heard him fall heavily to the floor. When they reached him he was in the last agonies of death, and only breathed a few times more. A physician was called but nothing could be done for him.

A postmortem examination revealed the poison in his stomach which it is believed was taken with the intention of suicide.

For many months he has been suffering from a cancer on his head and face from which he could get no relief. It is believed that the realization of his hopeless condition caused him to take poison.

He leaves a wife and several children. The burial will take place at Jonesville tomorrow.

Deafness Cannot Be Cured.

By local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When the tube gets inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out, and this tube restored to its normal condition or hearing will be destroyed forever, nine cases out of ten are caused by catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces. We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of deafness caused by catarrh that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free. F. J. CHENEY & CO., Props., Toledo, O. Sold by druggists, 75 cents. Hall's Family Pills are the best.

CORTLAND.

Rev. F. H. Tormohlen, of Seymour, preached here last Sunday night. Sabbath school was organized at the Newkirk school house last Sunday. Prof. Sanders is once more a free man. He is undecided just what he will do this summer. Albert Delong, of Freeport, and wife were visiting the family of Jake Wheeler Saturday and Sunday.

Miss Josie Robertson's graduating class presented her with a fine gold pen and holder at the commencement.

Miss Grace VanCleve was taken suddenly ill last Thursday night. She was unconscious for some time but is better.

Rev. J. W. Bixter, of the M. E. church of Seymour, will preach here at 3 o'clock the 23d of this month.

Geo. Ritz lost a valuable cow one day last week and came near losing two more. Too much green clover was the cause.

Elder Harry Jackson, of the Christian church, will preach here Saturday night the 22nd of this month, also Sunday morning and night following.

The commencement was a success in every particular. Everyone was proud of the entertainment, and Prof. Black commended the audience highly for the good order and attention that was given. The parents of the graduating classes and all the graduates took an interest in making the arrangements complete. Prof. Sanders feels grateful to the public for the help and interest taken.

Poisons engendered by food fermenting in a dyspeptic stomach are the direct cause of rheumatism, gout, bronchitis, liver and kidney complaints, asthma, pneumonia and many nervous ailments.

These results are prevented by the use of the Shaker Digestive Cordial, a remedy discovered and prepared by the Shakers of Mount Lebanon, N. Y. It is in itself a food and has power to digest other food taken with it. Thus it rests the diseased stomach and finally masters the worst cases of dyspepsia. It acts promptly and fresh strength and increase of weight soon follows. The first dose taken immediately after eating, abates the pain and distress so dreaded by dyspeptics. Trial bottles—enough to prove its merit—10 cents. Laxol is the best medicine for children. Doctors recommend it in the place of Castor Oil.

NEURALGIA cured by Dr. Miles' Pain Expeller. "One dose & done." At all druggists.

TOWN ELECTIONS.

BROWNSTOWN AND CROTHERSVILLE ELECTION OFFICERS.

The town of Brownstown and Crothersville held elections yesterday. The democrats at Crothersville elected their ticket as was expected, while at Brownstown the republicans elect the marshal clerk and one trustee.

For Marshal
John Worman..... 86-27
David Williams..... 69

At Brownstown the following candidates were elected:

Marion G. Fletcher, republican, clerk
H. W. Wacker, democrat, treasurer.
Frank Miller, republican, marshal.
J. H. Scott, democrat, trustee 1st district.
James A. Clark, democrat, trustee 5th district.
Walter B. Sage, republican, trustee seventh district.

Will Execute the Laws.

Rev. Z. T. Sweeney, of Columbus, Indiana, state fish commissioner, says that our lakes and streams will be stocked with fish, which will be protected from seine fishermen and dynamiters. He is an enthusiastic angler and friend of the finny tribe, and can be depended on to execute the laws designed to prevent the wholesale slaughter of fishes. —Ex.

Funeral of Engineer Wetzel.

The funeral services of Engineer Frank Wetzel, who was killed near Jonesville Sunday morning took place at Columbus this afternoon. Elder Sweeney officiating. The burial was in charge of the Odd Fellows.

Sensible Road Rules.

The following road rules, collated from various sources by the Overman Wheel Company, are eminently sensible and appropriate. A careful observance of them would do much to obviate many accidents:

In meeting riders, pedestrians and vehicles, keep to the right. In overtaking and passing them, keep to the left. In turning corners to the left always keep to the outside of the street. In turning corners to the right keep as far out as possible without trespassing on the left side of the road.

Never expect pedestrians to get out of your way; find a way around them.

Never ring your bell except to give notice of your approach.

When riding straight ahead, never vary your course suddenly to the right or left without first assuring yourself that no other rider is close in your rear on the side toward which you turn.

Always ring your bell in overtaking riders and pedestrians to give warning of your approach. This does not mean they are to get out of your way.

When riding after dark, always carry a lantern.

A pure cream of tartar powder.

The Largest Book.

Professor Max Muller of Oxford, in a recent lecture, called attention to the largest book in the world, the wonderful Kuthu Daw. It consists of 729 parts in the shape of white marble plates, covered with inscriptions, each plate built with a temple of brick. It is found near the old priest city of Mandalay, in Burma, and this temple city of more than 700 pagodas virtually makes up this monster book—the religious codex of the Buddhists. It is written in Pali. Rather strange to say, it is not an ancient production, but its preparation was prompted by the Buddhist party of this century. It was erected in 1857 by the command of Mindomine, the second of the last kings of Burma.—Home Journal.

MRS. J. H. JACOBS OF N. Y.

"Dr. Miles' Restorative Remedies Have Surely Saved My Life."

THAT A SINGLE REMEDY will not cure all diseases is a fact too well known to be questioned. Dr. Franklin Miles, LL. B., the renowned specialist in diseases of the heart and nervous system has during more than twenty years of constantly extending practice, kept a record for reference, study and comparison, of more than 25,000 affections of the brain, nervous system and heart. The results of Dr. Miles' extensive experience and prolonged study of disease he has embodied in the form of a system, (not one only,) of Restorative Remedies. A full description of these remedies with instructions how to administer them, together with the symptoms of the diseases they will cure is given in Dr. Miles' book, "New and Startling Facts," which is sent free on request.

In the treatment of heart disease, other complications are frequently met with, the most general of these is a serious nervous trouble that must be controlled before the best results can be obtained from the New Heart Cure. For this purpose there is nothing equal to Dr. Miles' Restorative Nerve and Liver Pills, taken in conjunction with the New Heart Cure.

MRS. J. H. JACOBS, Blodgett Mills, N. Y., writes of her wonderful cure by Dr. Miles' grand Restorative Remedies as follows: "Two years ago I was taken with a pain in my left side; I could not lie on either side and suffered with a choking or smothering feeling so badly I could hardly breathe, I suffered terribly. Trying many remedies without benefit I was advised to take Dr. Miles' Heart Cure, the first bottle relieved me some and I then took the Restorative Nerve and Liver Pills until I was much benefited. I was then without the remedies some months, when the trouble returned, pronounced by the doctors, neuralgia of the heart. I again commenced with the remedies, adding this time Dr. Miles' Nerve Plasters, and they have done wonders for me. I have gained steadily in flesh and I thank you for the benefit I have received from the use of these valuable medicines, they no doubt have saved my life."

It is so with many people who use the New Heart Cure. When the heart has resumed its normal condition, there is no more pain and the remedy is discontinued. This is a mistake. The heart is still weak and the treatment should be continued regularly and persistently, though in small doses for a long time, until the muscles of the heart have regained their normal strength.

Dr. Miles' Remedies are sold by all druggists under a positive guarantee first bottle benefits or money refunded. Book on the heart and nerves sent free to all applicants by the Dr. Miles Medical Co., Elkhart, Ind.

John R. McLean's Great Newspaper.

Without a single exception, there is beyond doubt no greater or more popular newspaper in the United States than the Cincinnati Enquirer; or a more successful publisher than its proprietor, Mr. John R. McLean.

The old-time prices for the Daily Enquirer have been maintained, and its circulation largely increased each year; hard times and cheaper journals failing to arrest its onward march and high appreciation of the public for its true worth and merit.

The Weekly Enquirer at beginning of the campaign year was offered at 50 cents a year, and its circulation increased by the addition of over 200,000 new subscribers; the most substantial and coveted testimonial a publisher could desire.

When asked for the secret of such success, Mr. McLean frankly answers: The Enquirer has no opinions to force upon its patrons, it simply prints the facts and tells the truth that the reader may form his own opinions. By maintaining the price of the paper, more news and greater variety can be furnished, and every class of business interests catered to, which a cheaper journal cannot afford.

The very liberal support given the Enquirer by the public at large, makes incumbent upon the management to serve it faithfully with zeal and enterprise in minor matters as well as those of greater magnitude.

ELY'S CREAM BALM is a positive cure. Apply to the nostrils. It is quickly absorbed, 50 cents at Druggists or by mail; samples 10c. by mail. ELY BROTHERS, 56 Warren St., New York City.

The Best Remedy for Rheumatism. From the Fairhaven, N. Y., Register.

Mr. James Rowland of this village, states that for twenty-five years his wife has been a sufferer from rheumatism. A few nights ago she was in such pain that she was nearly crazy. She sent Mr. Rowland for the doctor, but he had read of Chamberlain's Pain Balm and instead of going for the physician he went to the store and secured a bottle of it. His wife did not approve of Mr. Rowland's purchase at first, but nevertheless applied the Balm thoroughly and in an hour's time was able to go to sleep. She now applies it whenever she feels an ache or a pain and finds that it always gives relief. He says that no medicine which she had used ever did her as much good. ADOBE BUILDINGS.

SIMPLE ARCHITECTURE OF MUD HOUSES IN NEW MEXICO.

How the Bricks Are Made—They Have Straw In Them and Are Sun Dried. Dwellings Made In This Way Are Very Durable—A Favorable Climate.

Architectural engineering is a branch of the gentle art of making mud pies in the land where the adobe houses grow. In the land of sunshine, where a rainy day is so rare that it is marked with a red cross, the native contractor and builder wastes no time figuring on the strength of material, the crushing limit of tubular columns and the wind pressure per square foot of elevation. He does not pore over blue prints of plans, he whittles down his figures to the finest point so as to come under some other contractor's bid. He simply rolls his trousers up above his knees, digs down in a favored ditch or pond until he strikes the "dobe mud," and in a short time he is ready to begin constructive operations.

Adobe houses are brick houses, but the brick is sun dried and made with straw. The clay or mud of which the brick is made is a natural cement peculiar to the arid plains of New Mexico, Arizona, Nevada and that belt of states and territories. It is turned out in the most primitive manner, and the blue island brickmaker who might happen upon a half breed or Mexican "dobe" brickmaker would view the operation with amusement or disgust. Kiln burned brick, made of blue clay, however, would not meet the requirements imposed by the climatic conditions of those countries where adobe brick is used.

In summer an adobe house is cool; in winter it is warm. Its thick walls absorb the occasional rain, and, although the sun dried brick is soft compared to the kiln dried article, it does not crumble, and it stands for ages.

A man who recently traveled through New Mexico was much interested in the "dobe" houses. For weeks he inquired and searched for a "dobe" house in the hands of the builders. At length in Santa Fe he stumbled upon a couple of men stamping with their bare feet upon clay in a wooden frame. He inquired and found that he was looking upon two Mexicans making adobe brick. In describing the process he said:

"The men actually dug up the 'dobe' mud from the bottom of the ditch which skirted the road. They mixed it, or, as we say, 'tempered' it with water until it was of a stiff, clay consistency. Then they chopped alfalfa hay into short pieces and mixed it with the clay, and their material was ready to make into brick. A wood frame lay on the ground. This frame was filled with the 'dobe' mud mixed with hay, and one of the men got into the frame and stamped the mud down with his bare feet, at the same time tamping it with a stick. After the frame was packed hard he scraped the surplus mud off with a stick, so that the top surface was level with the upper edges of the frame, and then lifting the frame from the clay he carried the brick to one side of the road and stood it on its edge. The next brick he made he leaned against the first one, and soon he had a dozen large bricks—each twice as wide and long and thick as an ordinary brick—lying in the sun. One of the men told me that the bricks would be ready to lay in three or four days, and that they used the mud which the bricks are made of for the plaster."

"The walls of an adobe house are very thick, sometimes two or three feet, and in the ordinary one story adobe house, which is characteristic of that region, they are built up perfectly plain until they reach the roof. The roof is supported on wooden beams, laid edgewise on the walls, and the bricks are built up level with the top of the beams between the timbers, leaving the edge of the rafters exposed. The roof has a slight slant, and is made of adobe bricks. When it rains, the water soaks into the roof bricks, but does not begin to drip down into the rooms below until the rain is over. Then the family moves out until the water is through with its dripping. I saw an adobe house in Santa Fe which was built in the sixteenth century, and, so far as I could see, the walls were as strong and good as any house around there."

"Walls are built of stone, plastered with adobe cement, if I may so call it, and such walls are strong and solid. I suppose if that country had half as much rain as falls in Chicago the 'dobe' houses would after a time crumble away, but the average year in New Mexico is made up of 187 days of unclouded sky, 189 days when sunshine predominates and only 89 days of cloud, so that the rainfall does not amount to much more than a good sized fall of dew."

It is estimated that an adobe house costs about $100 a room, but there are mansions built of this material which cost not less than $30,000 to construct. When the "Americans" settled in New Mexico, Utah, Arizona, Nevada and the lower part of California they accepted the treacherous condition of the country and built their houses of "dobe mud."—Chicago Record.

Kentucky's Names.

Kentucky is known as the Corn Cocker State, from a game bird enjoying the same name which was formerly found in great abundance in most parts of the state. It is also called the Blue Grass State, from the belt of land running through the center in which this variety of grass grows to great perfection. In the early days of our history it was known as the Dark and Bloody Ground, being so termed by the Indians. It was then a debateable land between the Indians living north of the Ohio and those living in the mountains of Tennessee and Georgia, a sort of battleground for these tribes, which fact gave it the name long before it was settled by the whites.

Sick Headache.

Neuralgia and Extreme Nervousness.

EVER since I was eighteen years old until I learned of Dr. Miles' Restorative Remedies, I suffered from sick headache and extreme nervousness and dyspepsia. In time heart disease developed. I was treated by several doctors with no relief. Severe palpitation with pain in left breast, shortness of breath, and smothering spells made me most miserable. I procured Dr. Miles' Restorative Nervine and New Heart Cure and took them alternately as directed. Improvement began at once and increased so rapidly that inside of six months I increased thirty six pounds in weight. All pain in the heart is gone, and the nervousness has wholly left me.

ALBERT G. PORTER.

For a third of a century Albert G.

Porter was one of the most conspicuous and most useful men in Indiana.

He stood in the front rank with the ablest men of the state. Honored by his fellow citizens at different times and attained a high place as a public man, yet at no time did he urge himself forward as a candidate for public office.

As a public servant he never disappointed the people. He always held the confidence and esteem of men regardless of party affiliations. His administration of the affairs of the state as governor was able and dignified in the highest and truest sense. His services as minister to Italy at a time when he was confronted with some very difficult questions, were quite satisfactory to President Harrison and the American people.

As a lawyer Governor Porter took high rank from early manhood. His preparation of a case was extremely careful. His experience as reporter of supreme court had impressed him with the importance of avoiding error in all matters of record.

His many public addresses and political speeches are justly regarded as among the best examples of such productions. His life in every way has been eminently successful and brought great honor to himself and his native state.

Elections were held in Indiana towns yesterday. As a rule politics had little to do with the result yet nearly all the towns that were carried by the republicans a year ago were carried by the same party yesterday.

The discovery of a new oil field in Indiana has created about as much excitement as when the Indiana gas field was an established fact. Speculators are already numerous and making strenuous efforts to get all out of the discovery they can.

The beet-sugar industries of Germany made an average profit last year of $2,240 each, in the list of 113 from which returns have been received.

This is encouraging to those who desire to see the beet-sugar industry established in the United States.

FOURTEEN shiploads of free wool a day

coming into a single port is rather discouraging to the prospects of the American wool grower. No wonder the republicans of the finance committee are sitting up nights pushing to get the Dingley bill on the statute books as soon as possible.

Vice-President Hobart is winning high commendation as a presiding officer of the senate. One of the oldest officials of that body says he is developing greater capacity and ability as a presiding officer than any Vice-President whom he has ever known.

PRESIDENT McKINLEY's foreign policy is evidently going to differ very materially from that of his predecessor. The first few weeks of his administration resulted in the release from Cuban prisons of practically every American citizen confined therein and this has been followed by the quiet departure for Hawaiian waters of one of our war vessels, evidently intended to protect American interests there and to prevent control there by the Japanese or other powers.

POLITICAL BREVITIES.

Judge D. W. Henry has been for mally notified that he will be recom- mended for internal revenue collector for the Terre Haute district.

Ex-Senator F. M. Griffith, of Vevay, is quite anxious to go to congress and is getting around over the district right rapidly.

Anderson Piercefield, of Brown county, is finding friends over in Bartholomew county to support his congressional candidacy.

DIPLOMATIC AUCTIONS.

Eric-a-brac Bargains Eagerly Bought at the Shrine of the Red Flag.

There is a graceful custom among foreign diplomats at the capital that we may well trench upon. I refer to the auction sale which frequently befalls on the occasion of the recall of one of our alien ambassadors or ministers.

For two weeks before their excellencies decamp the local papers revel in a long and lurid "ad." recounting the recall of the ambassador or minister and declaring how on a certain day all people so minded are invited to appear and contest at public vendue for a dazzling list of plunder in said "ad." set forth.

Prime among the properties for sale you will notice wines and many a thing besides that are as articles of commerce highly tariffed. But in these cases courtesy has held the tariff at bay. All of a legation's wines and cigars and furniture—in fact, everything of a personal sort that a legation causes to be brought to America—is passed scot free at our customs. One will readily discern that a ripe profit might be made to roll pleasantly up at one of these untariffed legation sales. Our own tradespeople must, however, pay the fiddler in each notable instance.

At these sales snobdom turns stoutly out. The bidding is hot and fast and high. There is nothing so lusted for by a certain sort of American, cringingly numerous hereabout, as a wine which has been justified by an ambassador's taste, or a piece of furniture or bric-a-brac which has been soiled by noble and titled contact. And, therefore, these legation auctions furnish the most heated bid combats. And many a fool is fleeced.

It is also to be remarked that these sales string out in endless fashion, day following day, as fools flock to be bunked. The stock, whether of wine or furniture or cast off noble garments, never runs low. The widow's store of oil shined no better staying powers. As long as custom hangs about the chambers shout, the red flag floats and the stock of goods to be disposed of flows by with current unabated.

For, mark you, rather than disap- point or send any full hearted alien chaser away from this sale with aching heart and empty hands the auctioneer each night moves in a new stock to replace the disappearances of the day before. Each morning the legation room are as unstripped, the cabinets as full of bric-a-brac, the bins as replete with rare old wines as at the beginning.

Thus it runs forward until no more sheep appear to be short and even the toadies have enough. Then the flag comes down and the legation sale is at an end.—New York Journal.

ROUGH ON RATS

ENDED THE LIFE OF JOHN CONWAY
LAST NIGHT.

John Conway who lived with his family on east Fourth street committed suicide last night by taking a dose of "Rough on Rats." It is supposed that he took the poison late in the afternoon and then went to his bedroom. Near 9 o'clock members of his family heard him fall heavily to the floor. When they reached him he was in the last agonies of death, and only breathed a few times more. A physician was called but nothing could be done for him.

A postmortem examination revealed the poison in his stomach which it is believed was taken with the intention of suicide.

For many months he has been suffering from a cancer on his head and face from which he could get no relief.

It is believed that the realization of his hopeless condition caused him to take poison.

He leaves a wife and several children.

The burial will take place at Jonesville tomorrow.

Deafness Cannot Be Cured.

By local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear.

There is only one way to cure deafness and that is by constitutional remedies.

Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When the tube gets inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed deafness is the result and unless the inflammation can be taken out, and this tube restored to its norma condition or hearing will be destroyed forever, nine cases out of ten are caused by catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

MRS. J. H. JACOBS OF N. Y.

"Dr. Miles' Restorative Remedies Have Surely Saved My Life."

THAT A SINGLE REMEDY will not cure all diseases is a fact too well known to be questioned. Dr. Franklin Miles, LL. B., the renowned specialist in diseases of the heart and nervous system has during more than twenty years of constantly extending practice, kept a record for reference, study and comparison, of more than 25,000 affections of the brain, nervous system and heart. The results of Dr. Miles' extensive experience and prolonged study of disease he has embodied in the form of a system, (not one only,) of Restorative Remedies. A full description of these remedies with instructions how to administer them, together with the symptoms of the diseases they will cure is given in Dr. Miles' book, "New and Startling Facts," which is sent free on request.

In the treatment of heart disease, other complications are frequently met with, the most general of these is a serious nervous trouble that must be controlled before the best results can be obtained from the New Heart Cure. For this purpose there is nothing equal to Dr. Miles' Restorative Nerve and Nerve and Liver Pills, taken in conjunction with the New Heart Cure.

MRS. J. H. JACOBS, Blodgett's Mills, N. Y., writes of her wonderful cure by Dr. Miles' grand Restorative Remedies as follows: "Two years ago I was taken with a pain in my left side; I could not lie on either side and suffered with a choking or smothering feeling so badly I could hardly breathe. I suffered terribly. Trying many remedies without benefit I was advised to take Dr. Miles' Heart Cure, the first bottle relieved me some and I then took the Restorative Nerve and Liver Pills until I was much benefited. I was then without the remedies some months, when the trouble returned, pronounced by the doctors, neuralgia of the heart. I again commenced with the remedies, adding this time Dr. Miles' Nerve Plasters, and they have done wonders for me. I have gained steadily in flesh and I thank you for the benefit I have received from the use of these valuable medicines, they no doubt have saved my life."

It is so with many people who use the New Heart Cure. When the heart has resumed its normal condition, there is no more pain and the remedy is discontinued. This is a mistake. The heart is still weak and the treatment should be continued regularly and persistently, though in small doses for a long time, until the muscles of the heart have regained their normal strength.

Dr. Miles' Remedies are sold by all druggists under a positive guarantee first bottle benefits or money refunded. Book on the heart and nerves sent free to all applicants by the Dr. Miles Medical Co., Elkhart, Ind.

John B. McLean's Great Newspaper.

Without a single exception, there is beyond doubt no greater or more popular newspaper in the United States than the Cincinnati Enquirer; or a more successful publisher than its proprietor, Mr. John B. McLean.

The old-time prices for the Daily Enquirer have been maintained, and its circulation largely increased each year; hard times and cheaper journals failing to arrest its onward march and high appreciation of the public for its true worth and merit.

The Weekly Enquirer at beginning of the campaign year was offered at 50 cents a year, and its circulation increased by the addition of over 200,000 new subscribers; the most substantial and coveted testimonial a publisher could desire.

When asked for the secret of such success, Mr. McLean frankly answers: "The Enquirer has no opinions to force upon its patrons, it simply prints the facts and tells the truth that the reader may form his own opinions. By maintaining the price of the paper, more news and greater variety can be furnished, and every class of business interests catered to, which a cheaper journal cannot afford."

The very liberal support given the Enquirer by the public at large, makes incumbent upon the management to serve it faithfully with equal enterprise in minor matters as well as those of greater magnitude.

The Best Remedy for Rheumatism.

From the Fairhaven, N. Y., Register. Mr. James Rowland of this village, states that for twenty-five years his wife has been a sufferer from rheumatism. A few nights ago she was in such pain that she was nearly crazy. She sent Mr. Rowland for the doctor, but he had read of Chamberlain's Pain Balm and instead of going for the physician he went to the store and secured a bottle of it. His wife did not approve of Mr. Rowland's purchase at first, but nevertheless applied the balm thoroughly and in an hour's time was able to go to sleep. She now applies it whenever she feels an ache or a pain and finds that it always gives relief. He says that no medicine which she had used ever did her as much good. ADOBE BUILDINGS.

SIMPLE ARCHITECTURE OF MUD HOUSES IN NEW MEXICO.

How the Bricks Are Made—They Have Straw in Them and Are Sun Dried. Dwellings Made in This Way Are Very Durable—A Favorable Climate.

Architectural engineering is a branch of the gentle art of making mud pies in the land where the adobe houses grow. In the land of sunshine, where a rainy day is so rare that it is marked with a red cross, the native contractor and builder wastes no time figuring on the strength of material, the crushing limit of tubular columns and the wind pressure per square foot of elevation. He does not pore over blue prints of plans, cross sections and elevations, nor does he whittle down his figures to the finest point so as to come under some other contractor's bid. He simply rolls his trousers up above his knees, digs down in a favored ditch or pond until he strikes the "dobe mud," and in a short time he is ready to begin constructive operations.

Adobe houses are brick houses, but the brick is sun dried and made with straw. The clay or mud of which the brick is made is a natural cement peculiar to the arid plains of New Mexico, Arizona, Nevada and that belt of states and territories. It is turned out in the most primitive manner, and the Blue Island brickmaker who might happen upon a half breed or Mexican "dobe" brickmaker would view the operation with amusement or disgust. Kiln burned brick, made of blue clay, however, would not meet the requirements imposed by the climatic conditions of those countries where adobe brick is used.

In summer an adobe house is cool; in winter it is warm. Its thick walls absorb the occasional rain, and, although the sun dried brick is soft compared to the kiln dried article, it does not crumble, and it stands for ages.

A man who recently traveled through New Mexico was much interested in the "dobe" houses. For weeks he inquired and searched for a "dobe" house in the hands of the builders. At length in Santa Fe he stumbled upon a couple of men stamping with their bare feet upon clay in a wooden frame. He inquired and found that he was looking upon two Mexicans making adobe brick. In describing the process he said:

"The men actually dug up the 'dobe' mud from the bottom of the ditch which skirted the road. They mixed it, or, as we say, 'tempered' it with water until it was of a stiff, clayey consistency. Then they chopped alfalfa hay into short pieces and mixed it with the clay, and their material was ready to make into brick. A wood frame lay on the ground. This frame was filled with the 'dobe' mud mixed with hay, and one of the men got into the frame and stamped the mud down with his bare feet, at the same time tamping it with a stick. After the frame was packed hard he scraped the surplus mud off with a stick, so that the top surface was level with the upper edges of the frame, and then lifting the frame from the clay he carried the brick to one side of the road and stood it on its edge. The next brick he made he leaned against the first one, and soon he had a dozen large bricks—each twice as wide and long and thick as an ordinary brick—drying in the sun. One of the men told me that the bricks would be ready to lay in three or four days, and that they used the mud which the bricks are made of for the plaster."

"The walls of an adobe house are very thick, sometimes two or three feet, and in the ordinary one story adobe house, which is characteristic of that region, they are built up perfectly plain until they reach the roof. The roof is supported on wooden beams, laid edgewise on the walls, and the bricks are built up level with the top of the beams between the timbers, leaving the edge of the rafters exposed. The roof has a slight slant, and is made of adobe bricks. When it rains, the water soaks into the roof bricks, but does not begin to drip down into the rooms below until the rain is over. Then the family moves out until the water is through with its dripping. I saw an adobe house in Santa Fe which was built in the sixteenth century, and, so far as I could see, the walls were as strong and good as any house around there."

"Walls are built of stone, plastered with adobe cement, if I may so call it, and such walls are strong and solid. I suppose if that country had half as much rain as falls in Chicago the 'dobe' houses would after a time crumble away, but the average year in New Mexico is made up of 187 days of unclouded sky, 189 days when sunshine predominates and only 89 days of cloud, so that the rainfall does not amount to much more than a good sized fall of dew."

It is estimated that an adobe house costs about $100 a room, but there are mansions built of this material which cost not less than $30,000 to construct. When the "Americans" settled in New Mexico, Utah, Arizona, Nevada and the lower part of California they accepted the treacherous condition of the country and built their houses of 'dobe' mud.—Chicago Record.

Kentucky's Names.

Kentucky is known as the Corn Cracker State, from a game bird enjoying the same name which was formerly found in great abundance in most parts of the state. It is also called the Blue Grass State, from the belt of land running through the center in which this variety of grass grows to great perfection. In the early days of our history it was known as the Dark and Bloody Ground, being so termed by the Indians. It was then a debatable land between the Indians living north of the Ohio and those living in the mountains of Tennessee and Georgia, a sort of battleground for those tribes, which fact gave it the name long before it was settled by the whites.
